BADEN CLUB MAY CLOSE THIS WEEK

Move Possible to Forestall Court Action

Intimation that the Baden Kennel Club will close its gates before next Thursday to forestall a court decision ordering the track to cease operation pending abatement proceedings was given today by Attorney Angelo Scampini.

It is rumored that the closing is set for Saturday night.

This, however, while not denied, was not confirmed by Harrison W. Call, counsel for the Baden club. Call said he did not know whether any change had been made in the club's plan to run the dog track right up to Christmas.

Scampini did not tell Superior Judge Franklin Swart what was in the air, but said "something is being decided that will forestall the need of further litigation."

With that, Superior Judge Swart gave Attorney Call until Monday to file a brief in support of his demurrer to Scampini's petition for an order to show cause why the Baden track should not be shut down.

Call contends that Scampini's efforts to abate the track as a "public" nuisance are without legal foundation. He contends that Antonio Molini, the plaintiff, cannot allege a "public" nuisance merely because the track, which is adjacent to his home, is noisy and keeps him awake at night.

Call's brief will be answered Tuesday by Scampini, and Call will further reply on Wednesday. This will put the case before Judge Swart for decision on Thursday, a week from today.

Scampini said that the closing down of the track will automatically eliminate the nuisance and there would be need of no further litigation unless the track tries to reopen.

Colma Pioneer's Will Contested Here by Son

Cut off by his father with $10, Matthew C. Callan Jr., 230 Lowell street, San Francisco, today filed a contest seeking to break the last will.

The father, Matt C. Callan Sr., died in San Francisco September 26. He was a Northern San Mateo county rancher and pioneer.

Young Callan is joined by his sister, Mrs. Ruby E. O'Connor, 1827 Sixty-ninth avenue, Oakland. They name the remaining three sons and two daughters as defendants.

The plaintiffs charge their brother, George Callan, influenced the father to write a will on July 26, this year, in which he cut off the father's namesake with $10, gave the other three sons one-fourth each, and the girls one-twelfth each.

This was contrary to Callan's wishes in the will written by him on May 28, 1931, they charge, for at that time he gave each of the seven children an equal interest.

George Callan is charged with influencing his father's mind. The father's mind was also allegedly unsound because of addiction to liquor, and he did not write the will freely and voluntarily, according to the complaint.

The estate is valued at more than $65,000.

Defendants besides George Callan are Harold and Norman Callan, Edna and Annie Callan, Mrs. Mary Sceipser, Mrs. Katie Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Maggie Stelle.

Pardini & Scampini filed the contest.

Herman Wobber left Havana on Monday on his return to San Francisco. He has been in New York for several weeks in the interests of Paramount Pictures of which corporation he is manager.

ACTRESS RECOVERS

Thelma Todd, believed to have recovered from the effects of an operation, has returned to a Hollywood studio and begun preparations to make a new picture. She was critically ill for some time.

Hoover Plans Speeches For Fourth Tour

President Hoover today engaged himself in a speech-writing drive in preparation for departure at 11 p. m. on a fourth midwestern swing that will carry him before at least eight audiences in the succeeding 24 hours.

Looking ahead also to Monday's political journey through five Atlantic seaboard states, starting just 43 hours after his return from Indianapolis where he speaks tomorrow night, the chief executive denied himself to visitors during the morning.

White House aides said he will begin his address in Indianapolis at 7:30 p. m. Central standard time, Friday night, about an hour earlier than the starting time of his previous addresses.

Governor Ritchie of Maryland is speaking in the Hoosier capital the same night in behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Both addresses will be broadcast and rival parades are planned.

Despite the chief executive's effort, one of his secretaries reported there was no likelihood that the Indianapolis address could be finished until tomorrow between rear platform appearances enroute.

Shortly before lunch the president took time to present an American flag to the captain of the U. S. S. Constitution as a Navy Day event. He planned to devote the afternoon to campaign work.

Northern State Women of Moose Will Meet Here

The Northern California convention of Women of Moose opens Sunday of this week at noon in Odd Fellows' Hall, it was announced this morning by Mrs. E. R. Rice. This gathering, at which are expected a large number of women, is the first of its kind to be held in Redwood City.

Presiding over the convention will be Mrs. Francis Vincent, of Vallejo, while speakers will include Adilene Oust, of Merced, who is grand recorder of the state, and Grace Willits, of Oakland, grand recorder of Northern California. These officers bring the convention messages from Moose-Heart.

Following the convention will be a large banquet for the Women of Moose participants.

Democrats in R. C. Open Headquarters

Local Democratic headquarters were opened this week in the Sequoia Hotel building, Broadway at Main street, in charge of W. H. Morrissey, chairman of the Redwood City club, and J. A. Hosta, financial secretary.

ADVANTAGE OF CHARTER TOLD CLUBS

Five Meetings Held In Various Points This Week

Speakers addressed four important meetings in various parts of San Mateo county last night on the proposed county charter, which is to be voted upon November 8.

Tonight, in Burlingame, James B. Howell, chairman of the citizens' charter committee, and several members of the board of freeholders, will speak at a public meeting in the city hall.

Tomorrow night, there will be a public meeting in the fire house auditorium here, at 8 o'clock, when Howell is to talk. Mark E. Ryan and Sam Winklebleck, freeholders, will be on the platform.

Meetings last night were in San Mateo, San Carlos, Redwood City and Las Lomitas.

The San Carlos meeting was sponsored by the Community Club, with Attorney Edward Hoffmann of San Mateo the principal speaker. T. L. Chess and Dr. W. H. Murphy, freeholders, also spoke.

Jack Reuter, of Redwood City, spoke against the charter.

The club voted to endorse the charter, following the speeches.

Attorney Hoffmann stated that, at the present time, the citizens of the county have no voice in their county government, since the state legislature determines not only how the county should function, but specifies the salaries of all public officials and the number of deputies, and their salaries.

The meeting in San Mateo was that of the Business and Professional Women's Club, when W. V. Pepin of San Mateo explained the charter's provisions.

Chairman Howell addressed a meeting in Las Lomitas, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. He emphasized the importance of the health department as created in the charter and pointed out that the health provisions had been endorsed by the San Mateo County Medical Society.

At the promotion association meeting in Redwood City, Sam Winklebleck pointed out the savings which would be possible under the charter in respect to the county's inferior judiciary system. He said: "At the present time we have eight justices of the peace, while five are all we need to take care of the situation. The charter provides five. Constables in the charter are made ex-officio deputy sheriffs and fees they are now allowed to charge and retain for the service of papers will be turned into the county treasury. There is no question but what this arrangement will give just as efficient service and will save taxpayers much money each year."

Dr. A. L. Offield, medical superintendent of the county hospital, and Jack Reuter opposed the charter in their talks.

George J. Davis spoke for the employment relief bonds, which received the approval of those present.

President W. H. Morrissey of the association talked against proposition number 9 on the ballot, dealing with the so-called shifting of school taxes to the state, and T. J. Hallinan spoke against number 3, relating to trust deeds and mortgages.

Police Ass'n Holds Redwood City Meet

Between 30 and 40 members of the Peninsula Police Officers' Association met in regular monthly session in Wood's Tavern on El Camino Real last night.

Lt. Frank McConnell of Police Chief William Quinn's office in San Francisco spoke on "bunco artists" and "racketeering." District Attorney Edmund Scott gave a talk on co-operation of police departments and the district attorney's office in prevention and solution of crime.

Manuel Trinta, San Mateo officer and president of the association, was in the chair. Police Chief C. L. Collins and others off duty last night attended.

Sequoia Play Will Help Relief Fund

Having decided to stage a play for the benefit of Redwood City's unemployment relief fund, the Sequoia Players of Sequoia Union High School today announced December 2 as the date of their presentation of James Gleason's comedy. "The Shannons of Broadway."

Preliminary tryouts were conducted yesterday by Claude A. van Patten, dramatics director.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED

Mrs. Frieda L. McNulty has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Neil McNulty on the ground of cruelty by Superior Judge George H. Buck.

Las Lomitas Drainage Plan Is Opposed by Atherton Council

ATHERTON, Oct. 28. — Strong opposition to the proposed formation of an Atherton-Las Lomitas drainage district was expressed yesterday afternoon in a resolution unanimously voted by the Atherton town council.

A delegation of Atherton city officials, including Mayor J. A. Donohoe, Councilman E. L. Eyre and City Attorney Arthur Redington, will present the opposition resolution to the San Mateo county supervisors at the protest hearing set for November 7.

The resolution as passed by the council declared that Atherton's drainage problems were local problems and "can and will be remedied" by the town and that remedying the drainage problems of the outside district will not help the town of Atherton. Formation of the district was also held by the Atherton trustees to be contrary to certain sections of the state constitution.

A deed for a section of property to cut back the southwest corner of the Middlefield road-Fair Oaks lane intersection 50 feet, the gift of Mrs. Ellen McCondray Eyre to the town, was accepted by the council. Work will be commenced immediately on the widening of this corner, according to City Clerk Thomas G. Packham.

The proposed San Mateo county charter was commended by the council to the voters of Atherton for their consideration at the November 8 election.

Building permits for the past month totaled $5,870 in value, according to a report made to the council.

Merchants Make Ready For Xmas

Climaxing months of special retail activity, the retail division of the chamber of commerce has decided to put on the biggest and most elaborate community Christmas celebration in the history of the city.

There are from three to four thousand children in Redwood City and vicinity, not to mention the grown people, who look forward to the community celebration each year, and the merchants have determined not to disappoint them, but to make the celebration bigger and better than ever by the added time and attention of numerous capable committees.

The date for the big community Christmas party has been set for Thursday evening, December 1. As usual, a giant Christmas tree will be placed on the court house lawn.

Committees to direct phases of the celebration have been appointed by Chairman W. D. Ryan, as follows: General chairman, George McQueen; street decorations and Christmas tree, A. W. Gergen, chairman, A. H. Davies; funds, W. D. Ryan, chairman; Clarence E. Choate, J. P. Hearne, A. W. Gergen, Milton Hinds, Charles Nelson, Charles Douglass. Committees were given power to enlarge their personnel and to appoint subcommittees to carry out all plans for the celebration.

Chairman Ryan and McQueen will appear before the city council at its next meeting to ask its co-operation in the event. The police and fire departments will also be asked to assist.

It is also planned to ask Otis Carrington, head of music at Sequoia high school, to organize an evening of carol singing, and a silver cup for the winning group will be awarded in this event. The date for the carol singing has been set for December 15.

Robert C. Sudden Stricken Fatally At S. M. Residence

SAN MATEO, Oct. 28.—Robert C. Sudden, 71, capitalist and shipping magnate, died here Sunday at his home, 124 Warren road, San Mateo Park, following an illness of four days.

Sudden, who was the son of the late Capt. Robert S. Sudden, pioneer Californian, was president of the Sudden Shipping Company, the Sudden Estate Company, vice president of the West Coast Lumber Company, and was associated with the O'Connor Trading Company. He also owned numerous ranches in Southern California.

Born and educated in San Francisco, Sudden lived in Ventura until 1917. He was a member of the Masonic, Elk and Shrine organizations.

Services were held in San Mateo Wednesday at 10 a. m. under the auspices of the San Mateo Masonic lodge.

Sudden is survived by two sons, Robert E. and Donald C. Sudden; three daughters, Miss Dorothy R. Sudden, Mrs. H. M. Whiting of Claremont, and Mrs. R. I. McLellan, and a sister, Miss Cecelia F. Sudden.

Local Dealer Named For Westinghouse

Appointment of the Redwood City Hardware Co. as dealers for Westinghouse refrigerators and ranges was made this week.

The Westinghouse refrigerator features its dual automatic system. The range is also automatic in both baking and roasting and cooks by the "flavor zone" method.

Mrs. Elizear Bonanfant entertained her bridge club on Tuesday evening.

State Sports Group Elects R. C. Officer

George J. Zehender, president of the Redwood City Sportsmen's Club, was honored at a regular meeting of the club Monday night in the yacht harbor clubhouse following his re-election as second vice-president of the Associated Sportsmen of California at its eighth annual convention in Stockton Saturday.

Official delegates of the Redwood City club to the Stockton meeting were Art Mills and Ed C. Ottsman.

Robert L. Mann of San Francisco was re-elected president. Other officers named were C. S. Danielson, first vice president; Harold O. Preston, secretary, and Joseph Michel, treasurer, all of San Francisco.

A resolution adopted Friday calling for a deer limit of one buck per season was rescinded Saturday.

Other resolutions passed included request for a state law prohibiting the sale of striped bass, a federal license of $1 for hunting migratory birds and inclusion of a possession clause in the present abalone restrictions.

Judge McGrath Stresses Stand On Prohibition

Entering the final ten days of his campaign for election to Congress from the Eighth district, Judge John J. McGrath of San Mateo continued to stress his stand on prohibition. "I favor the repeal of the 18th Amendment and the immediate modification of the Volstead Act," said Judge McGrath, "but I am emphatically opposed to the return of the old-time saloon."

Other planks in Judge McGrath's platform are economy in national government, entering reciprocal tariff agreements as means to restore prosperity to California and to the country, opposition to cancellation of war debts and to this country's joining the League of Nations.

D. A. Acts to Bar Garbage Dumping

District Attorney Edmund Scott today was preparing to halt the dumping of garbage in the Visitacion Valley section of Northern San Mateo county on Southern Pacific property by San Francisco garbage interests, following a complaint to him yesterday by commissioners of the Brisbane Sanitary District.

Scott was informed that the railroad has given San Francisco garbage disposal interests the right to fill in tidelands belonging to the company. This practice has resulted in breeding of rats in great numbers and is a serious menace to the health of the Brisbane vicinity, Scott was told.

A mass meeting of citizens was held Monday night to protest the practice.

Baby Boy Born To Former Local Girl

Recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Winn, Hollister, the stork left a baby boy, who has been named John. The mother is the former beautiful Aurilie La Prairie, who was a teacher in the local school department last year. She is widely known on the peninsula. Her mother resides in Redwood City.

CO. CHARTER AND RELIEF MEETS DUE

Two Gatherings Are Scheduled for Tonight

Two public meetings will be held in Redwood City tonight, at which two important matters on the November ballot are to be advocated.

One will be in behalf of the proposed county charter, and will be held at 8 o'clock in the firehouse auditorium on Middlefield road. James B. Howell, former chairman of the board of freeholders, and now head of the Citizens' Charter Committee, will speak.

The other will be at the court house, at 8 o'clock, in behalf of the $350,000 employment relief bond issue. Charles M. Wollenberg, director of relief, San Francisco, will be one of the speakers, announces Chairman Sam D. Merk of the Citizens' Committee for the Work Relief Bonds.

The executive committee, appointed two weeks ago, will be present to discuss various phases of the bond campaign.

Other Meetings

Mrs. Edward Macauley, chairman of the bureau providing speakers for the county unemployment relief bond issue, today announced the following talks:

October 27—County meeting of Eagles, Daly City, Eagles Hall, Thursday at 9 o'clock.

October 27—Belmont Chamber of Commerce, Belle Monti Country Club, 7:15 p. m.

October 27—National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, A. M. E. Zion Church, San Mateo, 8:30 p. m. Robert Girvin, speaker.

October 27 — American Legion, San Bruno, 8 o'clock. Judge Rapsey, speaker.

October 27—Pescadero Parent-Teacher Association, 3:30 p. m.

October 28—Burlingame Chamber of Commerce, 12:15.

October 28—North Burlingame Community Club, 3 p. m. A. B. Cargill, speaker.

BACKED BY BUILDERS

Al Joy, of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, spoke last night on "Advertising and the Building Industries" at the quarterly meeting of the San Mateo County Building Industries Association at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, San Mateo.

Sixty-eight members and guests were present at the affair, which was a dinner meeting.

Other speakers on the program included Louis Lengfeld of Lengfeld & Olund, who spoke for a negative vote on amendment No. 3, dealing with mortgages and deeds of trust; Carl Bessett, of the Bessett Building Company, who talked on the necessity of the unemployment relief bond issue; and Roscoe F. Byrnes, secretary-manager of the association, who gave a resume of the accomplishments of the organization since its beginning on May 25 of this year.

Resolutions were passed by the association opposing amendment three and approving the bond issue. Pres. Samuel Briggs, of Meese & Briggs, was in the chair.

Davis Urges Vote For Job Aid Bonds

"Only lethargy and indifference can defeat the work relief bonds," said George J. Davis, secretary of the citizens' committee for the bonds, in a statement issued this week.

"Every organization, every community; leaders from every part of the county have joined in a whirlwind campaign to put the $350,000 relief bonds over with a generous majority more than the two-thirds necessary to carry them. Never in my experience in San Mateo county has any issue so united every group, without regard to political belief, creed, locality or business interests."

Building Permits

Total value of permits issued in October, to date, $9200.

Permits issued yesterday:

To Union Roofing Co., for Mr. Hanson, 1219 Arguello; reshingle roof of dwelling, $140.

To A. Lueger, for Mrs. F. Roussell, 11 Diller, garage, $75.

To A. Hibnes for John Olsen, 419 Clinton, gas vent, $20.

To A. Hibnes, for F. D. Granger, 827 Brewster, gas vent, $30.

To T. S. Karp, 59 King, alteration to residence, $150.

To J. V. Lara, for Mrs. N. McCall, 156 Duane, rebuild fireplace and chimney, $50.

HEADS REFINANCING

Herbert Gordon, Portland attorney and Oregon state legislator, was appointed special deputy to head the reorganization of the Union Savings & Loan Association, a mutual concern which is in the hands of the State Corporation Department. Its former directors were placed under grand jury indictment for asserted manipulation of funds.

Sportmanship Of Judge Buck Brings Praise

Because he does not want the voters of San Mateo county to think he is using his power as Superior Judge to further his election on November 8, Superior Judge George H. Buck has announced that he will not call the Grand Jury until after election day, it was announced this week in Redwood City.

The Grand Jury will be called to investigate municipal conditions in San Bruno and South San Francisco.

Unless his colleague, Superior Judge Franklin Swart, wishes an immediate investigation, Judge Buck will delay the Grand Jury session at least until after the polls close.

The venerable county jurist left veteran politicians amazed, it was reported, when he failed to take advantage of an opportunity to gain county-wide publicity. Judge Buck was firm, however, Redwood City reports declare.

"For me to assemble the Grand Jury to investigate at this time alleged scandal in civic government would be unfair to the voters. I want San Mateo County's voters to decide my cause at the polls uninfluenced by the wide-flung publicity that might result from a Grand Jury action.

"However, if my colleague, Judge Swart, thinks the immediate calling of the Grand Jury necessary, I will concur," declared Buck.

Judge Buck's attitude brought high praise from scores of civic organizations and private citizens.

Retail Division Upholds Deposit For New Stores

A letter from the retail division of the chamber of commerce, reaffirming the retailers' stand in favor of the city ordinance requiring new business firms to put up a deposit of $100, or its equivalent, for six months, was sent today to the mayor and city council.

Leading retailers declared the ordinance had been of value in keeping "fly by night" business out of the city, especially at holiday time. Legitimate establishments should be able to post the $100, they said. The money is returned at the end of six months.

At the last meeting of the retailers division, James P. Hearne made the motion that the letter be sent. It was seconded by Al Davies. A committee, composed of Hearne, W. D. Ryan, A. W. Gergen and George McQueen, was appointed to call upon those newcomers who might be affected by the ordinance, and to explain the situation and gain their cooperation.

JOB RELIEF PROGRAM IS OUTLINED

Leaders Convene Here to Map Plans For City's Needy

Expenditure of $500 for work relief in Redwood City during November from the fund made possible by the voluntary reduction in the salaries of city employes will be recommended to the city council by the local unemployment relief committee, following action taken at a meeting of sub-committee chairmen this morning.

Although today's meeting had been called for the purpose of determining the policy of Redwood City's relief program as to using funds for labor only or partly for labor and partly for food, clothing and shelter, this item was laid over until a future meeting pending settlement of the question of distribution and control of money from the proposed $350,000 county job relief bond issue.

$500 Sought At Once

Motion to ask the city council to spend $500 during the coming month to provide immediate employment was passed as an emergency move to take care of the present situation until the principles of the relief program here are fully established and the functions of the general committee completely organized.

City Manager E. A. Rolison reported to the relief executives today that money from city salary reductions, placed in the unbudgeted reserve for emergency purposes in lieu of an actual cut of approximately five cents in the city tax rate, amounts to about $500 monthly and roughly $6,000 a year. It is from this fund that the relief committee will ask the council to appropriate the $500 for November. The request will be in the form of a communication to be presented at the council meeting November 7.

See Possible Solution

Possible solution to the problem of local relief policy was offered this morning when it was suggested that labor be credited toward food, clothing and shelter as well as toward actual cash. No definite action was taken but consideration of the proposal will be continued at Monday's meeting of the general committee and at an executive session to be called by Chairman Carl E. Stoner.

Al Smith's Talk Limited to East

Representatives of Al E. Smith said today the former governor's address in Buffalo, N. Y., on Saturday night will be broadcast over an independent hook-up of six New York state radio stations.

At Democratic national headquarters it was said a speech by John W. Davis, Democratic standard bearer in 1924, in Ithaca on the same night will be handled over the Columbia broadcasting system.

Broadcasting Company said his chain originally had planned to make a broadcast for the Democratic national committee from Buffalo that night, but that arrangements had been changed to permit the picking up of the Davis address instead.

Drunk Charge Is Made After Crash

John Anderson, 102 Octavia street, San Francisco, and his brother, Olaf, were booked for intoxication here Sunday night when the former's car collided with two parked cars on Main street. The cars belonged to Florence Perry, 1414 Main street, and George Duffy, 212 Fifth avenue, San Francisco.

FIREMEN CALLED

Fire caused by a blow-torch being used to remove paint from an annex of the Mount Carmel Catholic Church on El Camino Real near Brewster street resulted in a call to the Redwood City Fire Department from box 511 at 1:25 this afternoon, but no damage was done.

VOTE STRAIGHT TICKET

It is of vital importance at this time of grave critis that the Republicans of this section stand solidly behind the three candidates, President Herbert Hoover, Tallant Tubbs for United States Senator, and Arthur M. Free for United States Congressman.

President Hoover has offered a definite, sound program for the working out of our national difficulties, and that program is already being put into operation. With signs of recovery on every hand, it would be a sad mistake for the American people to turn out of office an administration which has functioned so admirably during these critical times.

And it is highly important, with the return of Herbert Hoover to his high office, that he have the whole-hearted support of Congress. The Democratic obstructionist tactics of the last session were a menace to the national good, and showed the lengths to which selfish partisanship will go to gain its ends.

Congressman Free, having served six terms (12 years) in his present office, is a man who commands great respect in Washington. He holds a very high rank on the committee on merchant marine, radio and fisheries, and also on the committee of immigration and naturalization. In both of these capacities he has done splendid work.

This is no time to experiment by turning out of office tried and trusted servants who have been through the fire of experience and have proved their metal.

The voting of a straight Republican ticket is the surest safeguard the American people have that economic recovery will continue, and that the return of prosperity is not far off. Under steady, wise guidance, our ship of state will right itself, and we must be sure of the men at the helm.

CHARTER HAS MANY FLAWS

The proposed new county charter places entirely too much power in the hands of one man, the county manager, and it has other features which do not recommend it. The unified road plan is a splendid idea theoretically, but in practice it gives one man, the county engineer, control of over $300,000 annually with the resultant tremendous whip to obtain and control political patronage. The County Chamber of Commerce, which has done splendid work for the county, is done away with under the charter. With the new bay bridges assured, it will be doubly important to have San Mateo county well advertised. If we lag behind, Marin and the other counties to the north will get the jump on us and keep it. There are many other disadvantages of the charter. It attempts to change too much at one sweep. And many level-headed, clear thinking citizens will cast their votes against it. We doubt that it will pass.

RELIEF BONDS VITAL NEED

On the long ballot that must be voted on November 8 are many propositions that allow of an honest difference of opinion. But on one issue there can be no doubt.

The Work Relief Bonds, Number 21 on the ballot, represent the difference between actual want and hunger for 6000 bona fide residents of San Mateo county for this winter, and at least the bare necessities of life for them.

No thinking voter should hesitate for a moment to vote this $350,000 issue. Even if the laws of humanity did not demand it, the laws of California specifically compel the counties to care for their own needy citizens.

Should the bond issue fail to carry the necessary two-thirds majority, it would be necessary to levy the whole amount on next year's tax rate. This would mean at least 70 cents on the hundred dollar valuation, and would be a severe blow at this time to many small taxpayers.

On the other hand, should the bonds carry successfully no levy would be necessary until 1934 to pay for the bonds, and then only by light payments over a period of twenty years, in amounts that would not be felt.

This Relief Bond issue is a challenge to the community spirit of San Mateo county. A citizens' committee made up of the finest men in the community, headed by Sam D. Merk, is working for the passage of the bonds. Every voter should fall into line with their efforts, and give a decisive vote "YES" for the Work Relief Bonds, number 21 on the ballot.

HERE'S ONE ATTEMPTED TROJAN PASS THAT FAILED

Howard Jones' grid warriors from U. S. C. unleashed a swift passing attack to bolster their power assault against Stanford, but this photo shows one attempted pass that never got away. Clark, Trojan halfback, is trying to toss one but is stopped by Doub, Stanford end, who threw Clark for an eight-yard loss. Colvin, Stanford, and Sparling are wrestling in the foreground, while Getz, U. S. C., right, and Referee Herb Dana look on. U. S. C. won the game, 13 to 0.

Menlo Park

A full membership was present at the regular meeting of the council Tuesday evening.

The assessment for street improvements under resolution 31-3 was up for hearing but no action was taken. Several present declared that they had paid the assessment but had received bills. They were advised to disregard such bills. The matter is to be taken up on November 7. In the meantime the city attorney is to prepare the usual resolution.

Because the beautification of Menlo Park is of great value, the Menlo Park Planning Commission in a communication to the council urged that a public hearing be had to devise means to plant ornamental trees on the public streets, the planting and care to continue for three years. It was suggested that on streets 40 feet wide silver birch be planted 20 feet apart; one hundred feet wide, that Chinese elms be planted; and over one hundred feet, redwood trees be put down. All trees are to be four feet in height. It was suggested that the trees be irrigated from the fire hydrants, the Bear Gulch to furnish the water.

The matter was referred to City Engineer Mehl and City Attorney Withworth. From the manner in which the communication was received, it is believed that no immediate action is to be taken by the council.

The sum of $30 was appropriated to repair certain sidewalks in town, one on Mills avenue and two on the highway. The work is to be done under Street Superintendent Mehl.

The sum of $20 was allocated to pay the poundmaster who is to take charge of those wishing to give a half day's pay to the city in lieu of $2 for a dog license. As the poundmaster receives half of the license, he is to be recompensed by the city.

A permit was granted to the former promoters of the Blue Moon Dance Hall to conduct dances every Saturday evening. The request for two nights a week was denied, in as much as the residents near the hall objected to mid-week dances. The promoters are to pay a soft drink license of $5 a quarter, as well as the usual $15 a quarter for the permit. The officer's fee of $5 a night is also to be paid. On the motion to grant the permit, Hart voted "no," for the reason that he did not think the payment of a soft drink license should be exacted.

Mayor Weeden was instructed by the council to insist at the bond issue meeting for the unemployed at Redwood City on Thursday evening that the cities of the peninsula be given a just share of the $350,000. The mayor is on the committee and said this matter would be brought up.

A benefit whist party will be given on November 4 by the Church of the Nativity for the needy of the parish in the grammar school auditorium. Many valuable prizes have been donated for the game. A large crowd is anticipated owing to the worthiness of the great cause. Score cards are 25 cents.

Workmen who are demolishing the old China house on the O'Keefe property, found several amounts of money in different parts of the old structure totaling $18. No doubt the Chinese gamblers hid the coin, fearing a raid, and forgot where it was cached. A rosary was discovered dated 1872. This was before the orientals occupied the premises.

Miss Myra Kurtz, an accomplished typist, has been engaged to do all the typing for the local Hoover Club. She was employed at the Buck headquarters during the primary campaign, doing splendid work.

Chief Justice Waste of the State Supreme Court, was a week-end guest of Judge Charles Shurtleff at his estate on the Ringwood road. Some years ago the latter was an associate justice of the court, serving with Judge Waste.

W. E. Dale, the grocer, is soon to move from the Doyle property to the Sutton building across the way. He is to occupy the store recently vacated by Mr. Brown. Mr. Dale has been at the old corner, established in 1874 by Doyle and Duff, for the past ten years.

A Hoover Club was organized at the Hoover headquarters in the O'Keefe building Tuesday. Mrs. Ella M. Clancy was chosen president; Mayor W. H. Weeden, vice-president; Mrs. E. H. Worthman, secretary, and D. E. O'Keefe, treasurer. Much enthusiasm prevailed at the meeting, all agreeing that Menlo Park would give a substantial majority to the president. The headquarters are to be open in the evening as well as in the day time, so that anyone may call and get stickers, literature and buttons. From time to time Republican speakers will address meetings at the headquarters. Plans are on foot for one mammoth rally before election.

The Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar on November 3. In the afternoon tea is to be served and in the evening the sale of fancy articles will take place. An interesting program is also to be rendered. Local talent will take part.

A small grass fire on Prof. C. B. Whittier's place on the Santa Cruz avenue extension in Menlo Heights was extinguished Tuesday afternoon by the Menlo Park Fire Department.

Robert Clay Clancy, Stanford junior and member of Sigma Nu fraternity, will sail November 10 on the Dollar line President Adams for a trip around the world. He will be gone for several months.

Clancy is a son of Mrs. Ella Clancy of Menlo Park. He was graduated from Sequoia Union High School and attended Menlo Junior College for two years.

Ellen Meyer, Resident of Woodside, Dies

WOODSIDE, Oct. 28—Following an illness of several weeks, Mrs. Ellen Margaret Meyer passed away at her home on the Canada road early Saturday evening, October 22, surrounded by members of her immediate family. The deceased was born 62 years ago in Vallejo and spent her girlhood in San Francisco where she was married in 1900 to D. H. Meyer, who survives her.

Immediately following the wedding the couple came to Woodside where they have made their home continuously. Mrs. Meyer was the daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Bogle of Woodside, and the late Joseph Samuel Bogle.

Beside the bereaved husband and mother, she leaves to mourn her loss three children, Albert D., Harry E. and Evelyn M. Meyer; a granddaughter, Eleanor Fairlie Meyer; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Parlin and Mrs. Laura Abrahms, and two brothers, Fred and George Bogle.

Flannigan Parole Attempt Failure

Carl Flannigan, 31, former attendant at the United States Veterans' Hospital in North Palo Alto, whose automobile was involved in a crash in Atherton in June, 1929, which resulted in the killing of Mrs. Harry J. Crocker and Mrs. Louise F. Monteagle, society matrons, lost his plea for a parole at San Quentin this week.

He is serving a maximum term of 10 years for manslaughter and the board postponed his parole application for a year.

Flannigan is now working at the prison road camp in Monterey county. He was accused of being intoxicated at the time of the fatal crash south of Redwood City.

Chrysanthemum Tea for Benefit Of Scholarship

Proceeds of the Stanford Mothers' Club annual Chrysanthemum Tea to be held at the Hoover home on the campus on Thursday afternoon from 2 until 5:30 o'clock, will be devoted to the club's scholarship and welfare funds, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. George Lawry, president.

While the annual spring tea is given for the benefit of the students' rest homes, the chrysanthemum tea, which has become an autumn tradition, is for the benefit of scholarships given to worthy self-supporting students and for student emergency needs such as sickness. Club records show that last year $2,800 was spent on scholarships, and approximately $1,000 on emergency needs.

Plans for the day include the sale of chrysanthemums and candy, concert numbers by a unit of the Stanford band, and vocal numbers by soloists and a quartette from the Stanford Glee Club. Tea will be served in the garden, and pictures of the Hoover home will be sold indoors.

Mrs. Thomas Storey is general chairman of the affair, and Mrs. C. A. Cathcart is in charge of tickets, which are priced at $1.

Templeton Trial For Insanity Is Near Jury Today

SAN JOSE, Oct. 28. — The insanity trial of Douglass Templeton, charged with the knife murder of his aunt, neared the end of the testimony taking stage today.

The prosecution rested yesterday, and the defense had but two more alienists to put on the stand.

The lineup of alienists put four on the side of the prosecution, in declaring the youth sane, and two for the defense asserted him to be mentally unbalanced.

The remaining alienists to be heard are Dr. Julian Wolfsohn and Dr. Walter Schaller.

The case may go to the jury sometime tomorrow.

Dalziel Acting as Traffic Captain

Capt. James B. Logan was reported sufficiently improved today from his injuries of Saturday night when he ran off a 75-foot embankment on the Canada road to be able to leave his bed and sit up. He has a scalp laceration and wrenched back.

James Dalziel, veteran county officer, is acting as captain in Logan's absence.

So far there has been no order from E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California patrol, to have Logan cited to further explain the accident beyond the report forwarded to him Monday night. Logan is not suspended, it is said, and no indication has been given that a board of inquiry will be convened to investigate the mishap.

Montara Brush Fire Controlled

Brush and grass fires which have been raging on the coastside in the Montara and Princeton areas were reported under control today by Deputy Fire Warden Ernest Werder. Fire Warden Bert Werder stood guard with a crew of about 50 men while the blaze burned over an "old burn."

Deputy Werder on his return here after fighting the flames during the night said the towns of Montara and Princeton were at no time seriously threatened. Townspeople, however, took proper precautions by wetting down their roofs to guard against sparks.

MRS. LODI GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Isabel Lodi has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Louis F. Lodi, and the right to resume her maiden name, Isabel Mirandette, following a hearing of her plea for divorce before Superior Judge George H. Buck. The decree was entered on the ground of neglect.

Marshal Christ has collected for water, $558.40; liquor licenses, $840; miscellaneous licenses, $147; beer licenses, $10; special liquor licenses, $18; water connections, $10; total $1613.40.

Clerk Stafford reported having issued 67 miscellaneous licenses, $181; beer licenses, $20; liquor licenses, $840; special liquor licenses, $18.

Order passed to extend the lighting service 2,000 feet on Roosevelt avenue and install two arc lights for the benefit of the residents of that district.

An alarm of fire, rung in from fire house No. 1, brought out the department Tuesday night. The scene of the conflagration was the building on the corner of Main and Stambaugh street, owned by R. C. Holmquist, and occupied by C. M. Uhlenberg's grocery. Many of Uhlenberg's supplies were carried out, and although a great deal was destroyed by fire and water, he had enough to move across to the Hynding building where he will soon be serving his customers.

In the Superior Court Wednesday, the following citizens were drawn to serve as grand jurors: H. McArthur, John Clifford, A. J. Beer, M. J. Conway, M. P. Dutra, C. W. Christenson, B. Sheehan, W. W. Supervisor MacBain has a number of men and teams engaged in hauling gravel and putting the Portola road in shape for the winter.

The school children of Greersburg district are enjoying the annual fall vacation of two weeks.

The annual Teachers' Institute was called to order in this city in the Sequoia Union High School by County Superintendent Roy W. Cloud, a day earlier in the week than ever before. Miss Edwards of San Mateo was secretary and her assistant was Miss Lane of Ravenswood.

A very sad occurence took place last Saturday evening in this city. It being necessary for the nurse who was attending his wife to leave the house for another case, Mr. Richard Rumbol accompanied the lady to the door. On his return to his chair he slipped and fell, breaking his thigh bone near the hip. The unfortunate man then crawled to the door and after some time summoned assistance and was helped to his bed. The shock of hearing her husband in pain and the sorrow of not being able to help him caused Mrs. Rumbol to take a turn for the worse. A nurse was quickly secured by Doctors Ross and Barret, and although everything was done for the sufferer, Mrs. Rumbol passed away at 5 o'clock the next morning.

Lee Ross has been appointed private secretary of the San Francisco postoffice. The position was not sought by the young man, it came voluntarily to him. Postmaster Fisk was looking around for a bright young man, and hearing of Mr. Ross' ability, made overtures to him to accept the place. He has been filling the position since October 1 and has shown good executive ability.

Marriage licenses: Edward Milani of San Francisco and Pauline Pfrang of Redwood City. Daniel P. Flynn and Mrs. Lena Dorgan, both of Redwood City.

SOCIETY—CLUBS

Acacia Men Put On Party; Women Admit Success

Autumn flowers and fruits formed an attractive decoration motif for the party given by the men of the Acacia Club in the parlors of the Baptist Church last Friday evening, it was admitted by the women of that organization today. Forty members and guests were entertained by Halloween games and guessing contests.

Plans were made, at the business meeting which preceded the affair, to supply two needy families with Thanksgiving dinners; and Mrs. M. W. Berry was appointed chairman of a committee to select a Christmas play to be given at the church during the holiday season. With her will work Mrs. A. R. Stephens and Mrs. Glenn Wildman.

Members pledged themselves to earn $1 each before the next meeting, said dollar to be turned in to the treasury accompanied by a verse relating how it was won. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stephens in White Oaks.

Woodside Enjoys Football Parties

WOODSIDE, Oct. 25.—Miss Anne Duzanica and Andrew Loushin were numbered among those attending the Stanford-University of Southern California game last Saturday. Before the game and following, they were guests for buffet repasts at the Palo Alto home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mosher who kept open house that day. Other friends partaking of their hospitality were Misses Bernice Bernasque, Eileen Russell and Marian Johnson, William Johnson and Ernest Barberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of La Honda lunched with friends in Menlo Park Saturday and attended the football game at Stanford in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pritt of the Bear Gulch road had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mailly.

Belle Monti Is Scene of Post Game Parties

BELMONT, Oct. 24.—Over one hundred and fifty reservations were made for the dinner dance at the Belle Monti Country Club on Saturday evening following the Stanford and U. S. C. game at Stanford. The dining room, as well as the ball room, was decorated with Stanford and U. S. C. colors which made an attractive setting against the many beautiful dinner gowns of the guests.

Among those who reserved tables were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Collier, a table for twelve; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Galloway of San Francisco, a table for twenty; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peterson of Burlingame, a table for ten; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Roscoe, formerly of Belle Monti, a table for six; Mrs. J. Brubaker of Redwood City, a table for ten; Mr. O'Neill, a table for ten.

Tomorrow the Catholic Ladies of Belmont will conduct a food sale at the C. J. Messner store on El Camino Real. Home made pies, cakes, cookies, jellies, jams, cupcakes, beans and salads will be offered for sale by Mrs. Lovell Rousseau, chairman. Working with Mrs. Rousseau will be Mrs. Messner, Mrs. Harold McNeil, Mrs. Alice M. Marston and Mrs. Gus Bayreuther.

On account of the illness of Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Rousseau will act as chairman of the sale. Proceeds will be turned over to Our Lady of the Immaculate Heart Catholic Church of Belmont.

Belmont Parent-Teacher Association will meet at the school house auditorium tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. John G. Smith, president in the chair.

Mrs. W. P. Dunn, music chairman of the Seventeenth District of California Congress and Parent-Teacher Associations, will be the guest speaker.

After a short meeting tables will be arranged for bridge. Mrs. David Williams and Mrs. William E. Neilson are in charge of the card game.

Work will be started this week on the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bateman on Mezes avenue, Belle Monti. The home will be constructed adjoining the residence of Councilman and Mrs. James P. Halloran.

De la Mar T'ien Kou, famous Chow from the kennels of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo J. Marra of Belmont, was shipped to Oregon Tuesday, where he will be shown at the Portland International show held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is predicted that T'ien Kou will complete his championship rating at this show.

Miss Francella H. Joy, who is studying music at the State Teachers College at San Jose, has been assigned to teaching music at the Lincoln school. Miss Joy is assisting in supervision of the musical instruction for six grades of the school.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO GIVE PUBLIC DINNER

The Women's Society of the Baptist Church, headed by Mrs. A. C. Schmidt, chairman, will give a benefit dinner on Friday evening, November 4, in the church parlors, Hudson street and James avenue. Prices for the affair, which will last from 6 until 8 o'clock, will be: adults, 35 cents, and children, 20 cents.

PLYMOUTH GUILD MEETS TONIGHT

The Plymouth Guild of the Congregational Church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. B. Newman, 1013 Brewster avenue, at 7:45 o'clock. It will be a regular social meeting.

Hi-Y Meets to Plan Activities For the Year

A pre-game banquet with the Palo Alto high school clubs was among the activities for the coming year discussed by the frosh-sophomore Hi-Y of Sequoia high school at its second meeting of the year, last Friday.

Roy A. Hohberger, local secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, told of other suggested plans which included the Older Boys' Conference to be held at the College of the Pacific during the Thanksgiving week-end vacation, the induction of new members, and various service activities. The club will pay half of the expenses of sending two delegates to the Older Boys' Conference.

A nominating committee, appointed by Charles Bendeich, president, will bring in recommendations for officers for the coming year, the election being scheduled for the next meeting of the club, November 4.

S.W.V. Plan To Aid Erection Of Monument

Capt. H. J. Reilly Camp, No. 14, Spanish War Veterans, held its regular meeting in the civic auditorium last night.

The camp decided to join with the Soroptimists in undertaking a monument of George Washington in the capitol park in Sacramento. The state chairman in this movement will be Mrs. Minnie C. Oates, 509 I street, Marysville.

The next meeting will be held on November 8 when the books of the camp will be inspected and officers will be elected. Past Commander C. B. Addington, district inspector, of San Jose, will be present.

The auxiliary also held its regular meeting in Mezes Plaza Hall. General orders from Washington, D. C., in regard to pension legislation, were read.

Mrs. Lorenz Faulstich, patriotic instructor, read a brief sketch of the life of Theodore Roosevelt, commemorating his birthday, which occurs on October 27.

J. R. Steinberg of La Honda visited the auxiliary.

Mrs. E. B. Hinman and Mrs. A. J. Dempsey will have charge of the refreshments at the next meeting.

Moose Lodges Plan Series of Monthly Visits

The first of a series of visits to neighboring lodges was made by Redwood City Moose Lodge, No. 1112, last Wednesday when members went to San Jose. Among the officers in the delegation were: Past Dictator Frank Groce, Prelate E. R. Rice, Trustee Lewis V. Copeland, Secretary Manfred Walzberg, and Legionnaire Pete Lind of South San Francisco.

San Jose Lodge is expected to return this visit on Wednesday of this week, when they will join with the Redwood City lodge, and the Women of Moose of San Jose and Redwood City, in the ceremonies celebrating the founding of Moose-Heart on the birthday of Honorary Director General James J. Davis.

Monthly visits, which will include trips to San Francisco, Oakland, and Santa Cruz Lodges, will take place on the third Wednesday of each month.

Casarettos Honor Virginia Delucchi At Surprise Shower

Guests at the affair were: Mes-Casaretto were hostesses at a shower for the bride-to-be at the home of Mrs. Antone Casaretto, 9 Elwood street, recently.

Honoring Miss Virginia Delucchi, who will wed Alfred Decia, of San Francisco, on November 6, Mrs. Louis T. Casaretto and Mrs. Antone dames and Messrs. Vincent Maranta, Alfred Deanda, Monte Gherini, Louis Locatelli, Albert Beni, W. J. Owens, E. Buehler, Louis Casaretto; Mesdames Tillie Delucchi, of Redwood City, Roy Cudworth, of San Francisco; Misses Mildred Cullen, Grace Goshorn, N. Fletcher; Messrs. George McQueen, Clyde Genochio, of Redwood City, George Weigner, of Felton.

Arthur Blasdel In School Office

Elevated from one temporary office to another, Arthur Blasdel today was acting commissioner of student welfare and head of the Sequoia Union High School student body following the acceptance by the board of commissioners of the resignation of Roy McQuilkin.

Blasdel has been filling the job of Everett Everett, commissioner of boys' activities, who is on leave in New Zealand.

A permanent student chief will be elected within two weeks to name a successor to McQuilkin, who is a halfback on the football team.

STAMP ENTHUSIASTS CONTINUE TO MEET

The Sequoia Philatelic Society, headed by C. J. Whitley, meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, under the program of the Young Men's Christian Association. The club has served 150 riders of the stamp hobby during the past five years. For the younger collectors the meeting is over by 8:30 o'clock, while the adults have the right of way until 9 o'clock.

'Petite Lil' Is Football Fan, Admires Cards

"Petite Lili Pons," French soprano who has been singing lead roles in the current opera season in San Francisco, fulfilled one of her long-cherished suppressed desires Saturday, it seems, when she attended her first football game.

Whether she rooted for Stanford with an aria from "Lucia" was not revealed, but it is known that she was "thrilled to death." She was accompanied by her manager and her personal maid.

Her second most ardent desire which, she confessed, was to be photographed with the Stanford team, remains as yet unfulfilled. But "Petite Lili's" interest in the Indians ought to take some of the sting out of Saturday's defeat.

Wesleyan Club Goes Hayseed

There is only one way to get into a Wesleyan Club barn dance at the Methodist church, and that is to sit in a wheelbarrow and be pushed.

Such was the discovery of those who attended the old-fashioned barn party given by the club Tuesday night. Costumed as old-time farmers, the crowd of about 60 people played games and enjoyed a program in the Sunday school room which had been transformed into a barn. Two crates of live ducks added to the noise and the laughter.

Arrangements for the affair were made by Mrs. James Dodge, Mrs. George Greeley, and Mrs. Ramon Dimick.

LEGION HEARS HALLINAN, TYO

At the first of a series of community service programs planned for the coming year, the American Legion and its auxiliary heard Jerry Hallinan of Burlingame post and Arthur Tyo, of San Mateo, speak last night on amendments appearing on the November ballot.

Explaining the origin of Amendment Three, which concerns deeds of mortgage and trusts, Hallinan declared that labor councils, bar associations, banks, and building and loan associations all over the state are opposed to the proposed measure, for which he urged a strong "no" vote.

A resolution endorsing the relief bond issue was passed by the post following a discussion of the subject by Comrade Tyo.

Past District Commander Louis Chess of San Mateo and Comrade C. A. Whitney, chef de gare of South San Francisco, spoke on membership; and Mrs. Louis Chess, district president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Emmett Donnelly, president of Redwood City unit 105, spoke on the desirability of enrolling wives and mothers of legionnaires in the auxiliary to secure the fullest co-operation in carrying out the extensive program planned.

Commander Emmett Donnelly, Redwood City post, presided at the meeting.

LIONS PLAN BIG GAME CELEBRATION

Invitations have been issued for the Redwood City Lions Club's third annual "Big Game Party" which will be given at the Belle Monti Country Club following the Stanford-University of California football game on Saturday, November 19th. The affair, which has become one of the outstanding social events of the year, will be semi-formal and a buffet supper will be served. Guests from throughout the peninsula will be in attendance. The orchestra which recently completed an engagement on the S. S. President Hoover has been secured for the occasion.

Persons desiring invitations for themselves or friends are asked to telephone Redwood 334.

ANNOUNCE WINNERS AT PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

Holders of high scores at the Mount Carmel card party on Monday have been announced as follows: Mesdames Corsigeia, Boos, McCrea, Gilberg, Schultz, Reynolds, Stickle, Tavalero, Michel, Winiger, M. Casaretto, Lutje, Whitfield, Duffy, Ziemer, Wohlken, Fletcher, Hogan, Holden, Biegel, O'Sullivan, A. Cavalla, E. Dixon, T. Seufert, Palmer, Narramore, J. Gnap, E. Downs, P. Locatelli and A. Rohner; Messrs. A. Trantow and H. Berg.

In charge of next Tuesday's party will be Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Smith.

RAINBOW GIRLS PLAN ANNUAL CARD PARTY

Arrangements are under way for the big annual card party to be given by the Rainbow Girls on November 14 at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. This affair, of which Alice Swift is general chairman, is given each year for the benefit of the general fund and for the charity fund. Mrs. Jay T. Cooper, of the advisory board, will supervise the girls' committee. Admission will be 35 cents, and refreshments will be served.

MENLO PARK PEOPLE VISIT OBSERVATORY

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Scott of Menlo Park motored to Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton Saturday night. They were accompanied by Mrs. Scott's mother, Mrs. Mary Scott of San Francisco, and by their son, Reed Scott Jr.

Claws attached to garden gloves save the hands and allows more efficient weeding and shallow cultivation of the garden.

High School Notes

The operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," to be presented in the Sequoia auditorium Saturday evening, November 5, at 8:15 p. m., promises to be still better than many of its predecessors, according to Otis M. Carrington, composer and director.

A special matinee for the grammar school and high school students will be given Thursday afternoon, November 3. The price will be reduced to 10 cents, while the admission for the main performance will be 25 cents, following the plan of reduced prices set by the dramatics department.

The plot is laid in a Hawaiian girls' seminary garden, where a very strict governess, portrayed by Lorraine Bullivant, is in charge. Much of the comedy is found in the difficult attempts of a young man to see his sweetheart and the attempts of his friends to aid him.

The set which is to be constructed by the play production class under the direction of Claude van Patten, is to be of a Hawaiian garden with many palm trees to give tropical atmosphere. An elevated stage will be built to give a garden effect.

Colorful costumes are being made by the sewing classes under the direction of Miss Marion Hosmer, sewing instructor.

This operetta has been presented in thousands of high schools, including some in Hawaii, Australia, Canada and every state in the Union.

MENLO PARK HOME TO BE CLOSED FOR SEASON

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Taylor will close their Menlo Park home Saturday and return to San Francisco for the winter.

Class officers for this year's senior class of Sequoia Union high school were elected last week. Dan Da Mant, recent transfer from Palo Alto high, won the presidency over Alice Swift. John Merrill takes over the office of vice-president, while Phyllis Pennebaker fills the job of secretary. Anna Ott was elected treasurer.

A board of directors was chosen also, consisting of Olga Wagner, Lillian Walker, and Elinor Forster.

With four members chosen from interclass debate teams, a public debate is to be presented November 7 in the Sequoia Union high school auditorium.

The subject of President Hoover's re-election will be debated by Wilbur Woodhams and Billy Dusel, affirmative, and Alice Swift and Bob Steiner, negative.

The community is invited to attend the argument and hear both sides discussed. The four debaters were selected as best speakers in previous contests and the argument is expected to be exciting, according to Harvey Hall, debate coach. The time is 7:45 p. m. There is no admission.

Sequoia remains the only school in the league having two undefeated lightweight basketball teams. The ten's and twenty's have already cleaned up on South City and Burlingame and now will enter the Palo Alto hunting grounds for further laurels. Palo Alto lost two games to the San Mateo quintets last Friday while the Indians were winning, so the Cherokees are picked to squash the Red and Green hoopsters.

STANFORD MOTHERS TO ENTERTAIN 2,000 AT HOOVER HOME TOMORROW

Two thousand guests are expected by the Stanford Mothers Club at its annual Chrysanthemum Tea tomorrow afternoon at the Herbert Hoover home on the campus, it was revealed today by Mrs. Thomas Storey, general chairman.

Prominent women of the entire bay region, as well as wives of the university trustees and house mothers of the sorority houses, will assist the executive board of the club in receiving guests, and a group of more than 50 Stanford coeds will be present to serve tea, act as ushers, and sell candy and flowers.

Band to Play

Concert numbers by a part of the Stanford band will be played on the lawn in the garden during the afternoon and soloists and a quartet from the university glee club will entertain with songs.

Committees which will handle arrangements for this large affair have been announced as follows: Tickets: Mrs. A. M. Cathcart, man; Mrs. E. C. Ewell, Stanford; Mrs. Theophilus Allen, Mrs. J. A. Miller, Mrs. George Lawry, Palo Alto; Mrs. J. L. Rogers, Burlingame; Mrs. Frank Doughty, San Mateo; Mrs. Harris Shaw, Berkeley; Mrs. E. O. Whitney and Mrs. G. F. Quigley, Oakland and Piedmont; Mrs. Peter Targhetta, Alameda; Mrs. S. D. Balch, San Leandro; Mrs. William Cranston, Los Altos; Mrs. J. H. Shepherd and Mrs. Peter Jordan, San Jose, and Mrs. Milton Eisner and Mrs. A. M. Fay, San Francisco.

In charge of the candy committee is Mrs. J. R. Holman, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Clark. Soliciting donations with them will be: Mrs. E. E. Hind, Palo Alto; Mrs. W. B. Owens, Stanford; Mrs. Frank Weber, Los Altos; Mrs. Leonard Edwards, San Jose; Mrs. R. R. West, San Mateo and Burlingame; Mrs. Roscoe Day, Oakland, and Mrs. E. M. Smith, San Francisco. Candy is to be delivered to the women's clubhouse on the campus if possible.

Call for Flowers

Mrs. F. H. Fowler and Mrs. Horatio Stebbins, who have charge of the chrysanthemum sale, ask that flowers be delivered to the Hoover home today if possible. The committee will, howover, call for flowers if delivery is impossible.

For the third time, Mrs. H. C. Lunt is acting as chairman of the refreshment committee, and under her is Mrs. U. A. Patchett, head of the cake division, who issued a call for 4200 cakes last week.

The tickets for the tea are priced at $1, and not only members of the club, but also their friends and those who are interested in the student welfare program, are invited to attend, according to Mrs. George Lawry, president.

De Molay Elects New Officers

De Molay officers were selected at the regular meeting in Redwood City last night, with the following results:

Master councillor, Ernest Bevilockway; senior councillor, Edward Potts; junior councillor, Robert Archibald; scribe, Max Green.

Public installation will be held on November 15.

The chapter will give a dance on Saturday, October 29, at 8 o'clock, in Masonic Hall. Admission will be 25 cents.

Yomecans Hear Pet Show Plans

Proposals for the 1933 pet and hobby show sponsored by the Redwood City Humane Society and the Yomecan Club were outlined at Tuesday night's Yomecan meeting by Mrs. John Ryan and Mrs. Gene Hoffman of the humane society.

Edward Greeley was chairman of a program in which club members participated in debates on political issues concerning the forthcoming general election.

Edward Potts was appointed to head a committee which will arrange a Halloween theatre party for club members next Monday evening.

MRS. HEARST IS WOODSIDE GUEST

Mrs. George Hearst, of Los Angeles, has been the guest of the Herbert Fleishhackers at Woodside for several days. Coming up for the University of Southern California-Stanford game, she has enjoyed a round of parties in her honor. Among those entertaining for her are: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fleishhacker Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hendrickson, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Herrmann.

Teaching Groups Opposing No. Nine

Three powerful school teachers' groups have joined the ranks of opposition to proposition No. 9, the Stoney, chairman of the campaign school tax amendment, according to announcement made by Donzel committee of the San Francisco Real Estate Board. These groups, according to Stoney, whose organization is leading the opposition to the amendment, are: San Francisco Federation of Teachers, local No. 61; Teachers' Association of San Francisco; High School Teachers' Association.

The teachers' groups, according to Stoney, view the amendment as "untimely" and "detrimental to the school system." In addition to the increased millions of dollars provided annually for school purposes, the educators object to a provision which will permit of political log-rolling in connection with the distribution of school funds. The amendment permits the legislature to direct the expenditure annually of the $50,000,000 it seeks to raise through new income and selective sales taxes wherever that body pleases, irrespective of the sources of the funds. This, they hold, can only mean political distribution.

Postoffice Permit Issued, Palo Alto

A building permit for $110,000 was taken out at the Palo Alto City Hall Tuesday for the new United States Postoffice building to be erected at Waverley street, Hamilton avenue, and Gilman street.

It will be a one-story, type three structure, of Spanish style of architecture. The builder is A. Nelson of San Francisco. Birge M. Clark was the architect.

Excavation of the site is now in progress.

Umbrellas of asbestos are being used by German firemen to ward off flames shooting out from burning buildings.

Church Groups Sail Bay With Sea Scouts

The young men's classes from the Congregational, Methodist, and Baptist churches enjoyed a cruise on the bay yesterday with the local Sea Scouts. Under the orders of Wilbur Doxsee the group left Redwood City Yacht Harbor shortly after noon in the "Challenger," manned by Brenton Werder and his crew.

A picnic lunch, a short turn at the tiller for every passenger, and a litle rough water were among the factors contributing to the entertainment of the day.

The passenger list included the following names: Roscoe Savage, A. Stephenson, H. Kay, B. Shaffer, Sax Downs, Jack Dempsey, Ray Jones, Charles Bendich, Art Blaisdell, G. Downs, Ken Diehl, Karl Kroyer, Gerald Tuxford, Ken Meyer, Don McPherson, G. McPherson, Norval Burgess, Robert Spenser, Glen Smith, Earl Whitmore, Malcolm Waite, John Diehl, Ralph Rhoda, George Rhoda, John Rhoda, Jim Rhoda, Chris Kane, Floyd Hatley, John Durnam, William Creighton, Bud Doxsee, W. H. Doxsee, Brenton Werder, John W. Rhoda, Tom Graham, Chester Haas.

U. C. Leaders, Alumni Will Confer Nov. 18

BERKELEY.—Announcement of a conference between administrative leaders of the University of California and approximately 400 alumni representing every community in the state, to be held Friday, November 18, on the Berkeley campus, was made today by Robert Sibley, executive manager of the California Alumni Association.

This is the second event of its kind to be held at the university, the first, which was last year when 200 alumni conferred with President Robert G. Sproul. The purposes of the meetings are to give the alumni the opportunity of questioning university officials on the policies of the state institution, setting up a forum for discussion and criticism, and determining, if possible, how the university may better serve the interests of the state at large.

The conference will be presided over by Vice President and Provost Monroe E. Deutsch, in the absence of President Sproul, who will be in the East at that time.

SPANISH WAR VETS MEET TONIGHT

The regular meeting of Captain H. J. Reilly Camp, No. 14, Department of California, United Spanish War Veterans, will be held tonight at Tuesday night's Yomecan meeting by Mrs. John Ryan and Mrs. Gene Hoffman of the humane society.

Legislative matters requiring the attention of all members and the unemployment situation as it affects the organization, will be discussed. All comrades are requested to be present.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet at the same time in Mezes Hall.

K. OF P'S CONFER ESQUIRE RANK

The rank of esquire was conferred upon one candidate Tuesday night at a meeting of El Camino No. 367, Knights of Pythias, before a large group of members from Palo Alto and Burlingame as well as Redwood City.

Members and their families attended an open meeting of the district convention at Burlingame yesterday evening.

DE MOLAY TO STAGE HALLOWEEN DANCE

The Halloween dance to be given by Redwood Chapter, Order of De Molay, on Saturday evening, October 29, is announced as an informal affair. The boys are asked not to wear cords. Admission is 25 cents and tickets are being sold throughout the city by members. Edward Potts is chairman of the arrangements.

Shivering causes contraction of the muscles and, like exercise, it can increase the appetite.

FRANK RIDELLS CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY WITH REPLICA DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rockwell Ridell of this city are celebrating this evening the 50th anniversary of their wedding, which took place at Oak Park, Ill., on October 25, 1882.

They are being entertained by the children with a replica of the original wedding supper at the home of their son, Edwin A. Ridell, 6 Engle road, San Mateo.

The only guests, besides the immediate family, will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mortimer Brown of Berkeley, old friends and former residents of Jamestown, N. Y., where both families resided for about 25 years.

Mr. Ridell was for many years production and sales manager of the Yale Lock Company of New England, in the postoffice equipment department. Later he affiliated with the Art Metal Construction Company at Jamestown, which is in Chautauqua county, New York, as eastern sales manager and special contract salesman.

During the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, Mr. Ridell installed the postoffice equipment in the Mines building, known as the "model postoffice," and remained there during the entire time of its operation. Here the keyless type of postoffice lock box was first introduced, which type is now used in the local postoffice.

Mr. Ridell belonged to the Mount Moria (Jamestown) Lodge No. 145, Free and Accepted Masons, and the Knight Templar Jamestown Commandery No. 61. Upon taking up his residence here about 10 years ago, he demitted to Redwood City Lodge No. 168 of the Masonic order.

Have Been Active

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ridell have always taken an active part in the church and social life of the communities in which they lived. Mrs. Ridell was a member of several clubs in Jamestown, and was for many years one of the board of managers of the hospital there. She was a charter member of the Jamestown chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, organized in 1900, to which she still belongs. Both are members of the First Congregational Church here. Mr. Ridell was a deacon here until ill health forced him to retire.

The Rideils have received many congratulations from friends here and elsewhere upon their long and happy life together. They are now 79 and 76 respectively.

The immediate family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Archibald Ridell and their son, Robert Rockwell Ridell; Mrs. Amy Ridell Holmes of Redwood City, deputy county clerk, and two sisters of Mrs. Ridell, Mrs. Arthur H. Doane of Rock Springs, Wyo., and Miss Grace E. Phelps of Pacific Palisades, Los Angeles county.

WOMEN OF MOOSE MEET TONIGHT

Women of Moose will meet tonight with the men at 8:30 o'clock in Forester's Hall.

Native Daughters Party Tomorrow

Bonita parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will stage a public card party tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall following the parlor's regular meeting which starts promptly at 7, it was announced today by Mrs. Dora Wilson.

Chairmen for the card party will be Mrs. Mamie Glennan, Mrs. W. W. Thompson and Mrs. Alice Johnson. Score cards will be 25 cents.

Mrs. Wilson calls to the attention of members of Bonita parlor an invitation to attend The Tribune's cooking school conducted by Miss Louise Lane in the parochial school auditorium at Katherine and Grand streets daily from 2 to 4 p. m. until October 28.

Native Daughters have also been invited to attend the combined court of honor and parents' and sponsors' night program of Boy Scout troop 143 tomorrow evening in Foresters' hall. The troop is sponsored by Redwood parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

Burlingame Woman Files Father's Will

Mrs. Laura T. Cooke of Burlingame is now on file with County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman a petition for probate of the will of her father, George W. Olmstead, who died October 15. The estate will not exceed $10,000.

Hillsborough Oaks Home Contract Let

Meese & Briggs of Redwood City have the contract on the $6961 home being erected in Hillsborough Oaks by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hughmanick, according to a builder's agreement filed with County Recorder T. C. Rice today.

JURIST AND WIFE ARE ENTERTAINED

Chief Justice William H. Waste and Mrs. Waste were week-end guests of Judge and Mrs. Charles A. Shurtleff at their Menlo Park home.

Attention! VOTERS OF SAN MATEO COUNTY

Do You Believe in Fair Play as Well as Common Sense? If You Do

Retain

Superior Judge George H. Buck

(Department No. 1)

Common Sense

Common sense demands that fearless as well as able public officials be placed in office.

Your veteran Superior Court Judge, George H. Buck is unquestionably fearless and able.

No one, Attorney, Judge or Private Citizen could ever, without making themselves ridiculous, charge Judge Buck with lack of legal ability or with lacking courage of his convictions.

Fair Play

Fair play demands that a faithful and courageous public servant be retained in office. Fair play demands that Judge Buck be retained.

Judge Buck has served San Mateo County faithfully and well. He has saved the taxpayers many hundreds of thousands of dollars by his own hard work and sacrifice.

Don't Be Misled!

Fearless men make enemies. Fearless public officials usually have short political lives.

But Judge Buck has survived forty-two years because San Mateo County voters have appreciated him as an exception to the general run of vote seekers; a man beyond the reach of political favor.

Powerful, bitter elements seek to defeat this able, experienced, faithful magistrate. Don't be misled! Retain Judge Buck, a good and faithful servant!

Conference Held On Bond Money Use

BURLINGAME, Oct. 26.—City officials of Burlingame, San Mateo and elsewhere on the peninsula met in the city hall here last night to discuss with Sam D. Mark, head of the bond relief committee, possible apportionments of the $350,000 issue among communities, assuming it is carried. No definite decision was possible, and another meeting will be held next Tuesday in San Mateo. Mayor W. J. Dusel of Redwood City and Mayor Asa Hull of San Carlos were present.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

DON'T PERMIT TRANSFER

California voters will be called upon in the coming election to vote away a portion of their highway building funds, so that the state may use that direct tax on the motorist to pay interest on and retire bonds that belong to the dim and distant past.

This is not being asked because the State of California cannot operate within its revenues. It is being asked because the state's political powers are unwilling to curtail their expenditures so that California may conduct its affairs according to its capacity to pay from the usual sources.

The California gasoline tax, which is not so painless as politicians seem to think, was pledged to the building and upkeep of highways. The major highway system is far from completed. The revenue obtained from the gasoline tax is needed to continue with the progress of the highway system. The people of California, when they placed their stamp of approval on that method of taxation did so with the implicit and explicit understanding that it was for the purpose of building and maintaining a great network of service and pleasure highways. They should permit no transfer of these funds.

If the people of California are persuaded to permit the gasoline tax revenues to be undermined and used for other purposes than those for which this tax was voted, they will be playing into the hand of tax-eaters.

Reduction of governmental operations costs or increased efficiency and service to the public from the sane and conscientious application of revenues will not come by making it easier for government to continue with its extravagances and wastes. Before diversion of funds voted for a special purpose is permitted by the people of California, it should be conclusively proved to the people that their government, operating economically and efficiently, is at the limit of its resources.

But it has not been proved that this state's government is operating either economically or efficiently. In fact, the one department of the state that is so operating is the department that is spending the gasoline tax money on highway development.

Don't let the politicians juggle with the gasoline tax. It would mean throwing good money after bad.—Monterey Peninsula Herald.

THESE STATISTICS NOT QUITE COMPLETE

It used to be that the bathtub held the championship for indoor falls and consequent injury to life and limb.

But no more. Now it's stairs, pieces of furniture, slippery floors and verandas that hold the record.

For out of 2,317 falls in the home, the records of a company to which such mishaps mean dollars and cents, finds that there were only 19 skids on soapy bathtub surfaces.

The stairs, pieces of furniture, slippery floors and verandas record is 43 per cent of the total number.

Burns from steaming kettles, stoves and wash boilers constituted 25 per cent of the total.

Books

By JOHN SELBY

It is a rewarding week for a casual stroll among the bookstalls, where a considerable list of new books awaits exploration.

The stroller should not miss Richard Lockridge's "Darling of Misfortune," in which he retells the story of Edwin Booth, a story that is well worth retelling. It may be thought that because of sparseness of material and the remoteness of the period that Arthur Weigall's "Sappho of Lesbos" is thinly drawn. But the opposite is true.

There is also a substantial feel about Bennett Champ Clark's "John Quincy Adams, Old Man Eloquent" that cannot be escaped, and a fairness and balance not too frequently met. And it is amusing to learn that the latest biographer of Queen Elizabeth ("The Tudor Wench") calls herself Elswyth Thane and actually is Mrs. William Beebe, wife of the deep-sea explorer. Mrs. Beebe considers only the first 25 years of Elizabeth's life.

More Biography

The substantial outlines upon the shelf of Arthur Pound's "The Penns of Pennsylvania" could scarcely be overlooked, nor should they. Somewhat less sure of attracting attention is Kathleen Campbell's "Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough," although it is only that Sarah was a good deal better known to good Queen Anne than to us, and no fault of Mrs. Campbell's.

And if the stroller ignores "Behind the Door of Delusion," in which a man signing himself simply "Inmate, Ward 8," writes of his experiences as a patient in a state hospital for the insane he is doing himself an injustice. The writer is a dipsomaniac, his story touching, his observation acute.

The Fiction Shelves

By this time the stroller reaches the fiction shelves, fairly attractive this week. He finds "Peking Picnic," the brittle tale of legation life in Peking with which Ann Bridge won the third Atlantic novel contest. He probably will take down Thomas Washington-Metcalfe's swirling, gusty and imaginative "The Life and Adventures of Aloysius O'Callaghan," and possibly the story of Negro life down South which Welbourn Kelley calls "Inchin' Along."

He may find Jean Fayard's "Desire" more clever than necessary, even if it did win the 1931 concourt prize in France, but if he does there will be Morley Callaghan close by with "A Broken Journey," the seriousness of which never goes stale.

The stroller will appear eminently literary if he carries home under his arms "The Liberation of American Literature" By V. F. Calverton. Calverton essays to evaluate our literature by a sociological rather than esthetic standard, but it's a good book nevertheless.

RACKETS STILL WITH US

An Oregon editor writes from Chicago that depressions may come and go but rackets go on forever! Picnics for the unemployed so they may be fed and forget their troubles are popular, so the racketeers sell bogus picnic tickets "for the police relief fund." Each ticket aids the unemployed and allows the purchaser "immunity from arrest for speeding." Two dollars each, and thousands fall for it!

Then there is the hammer game. A large advertising firm plans a placard campaign along the highways, advertising for helpers. Men and women flock in, are given jobs but told they must first purchase a special type of hammer with which to tack up the placards, cost $2. They scurry around to raise the $2. Get their hammers which are worth two bits, but no job!

A novel clock in a South American city is in the form of a searchlight. The clock, in revolving, falls on a different landmark every hour.

DEFEAT IS URGED OF INITIATIVE TO LEGALIZE BETTING

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is working on question of eliminating dog racing tracks, but it feels that "unless the initiative measure to legalize pari-mutuel betting and race tracks is defeated Proposition No. 5 on the November ballot, we will be unable to do anything in the state legislature specifically with the dog tracks," according to E. O. Dalton, managing director of the San Francisco chamber, in a letter addressed to the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce.

Proposition

No. 3

Will Be a Boomerang To The Borrower!

Vote NO

You might vote wrong, thinking you were voting right because Proposition No. 3 is not what it seems.

BECAUSE IT WILL

Impair the value of real estate

It will throw unnecessary restrictions around the borrowing of money

It is so confusing that neither borrower nor lender will know his rights under it, nor be safe in his title or possession

It will protect neither the lender in his loan or the borrower in his equity.

IT CONVERTS EVERY FORECLOSURE INTO A LAWSUIT.

Mountain Lion Killing Film Distorts Facts; Silly Farce Glorifies "Heroic" U. S. Hunter

By CHARLES H. PRIOR

One of the most disgusting, faked, distorted pieces of propaganda that has come to our attention in a long while was the so-called "adventure" film at the Sequoia Theater in Redwood City last Friday night, entitled "Get That Lion!"

It pictured the cougar or mountain lion in his habitat, scenes supposed to have been taken in the Tonto National Forest. Figures were quoted about the terrible toll of stock taken annually by the lions. Something about 700 lions still alive in the Southwest, and how they kill 35,000 head of stock each year. What nonsense!

The picture finally resolved itself down to the lion known as the "Killer," his innocent vicitims, and the noble government hunter, one Pyle, a leather-faced, tobacco-chewing son of the open range, who has a pack of dogs and whose chief business is lions.

Strange how man, himself a killer and a beast of prey, likes to brand other living things with the dreaded title, "Killer." And then to hunt down the "Killer." What glorious manly sport!

The blood-thirsty, terrible lion leaping from tree limbs upon innocent, defenceless calves and lambs. Hunt him down! Crush the wild heart out of him! We see the noble Pyle forcing a poor, defenceless pony over the rocks and up and down the steep slopes. We see his pack of hounds trained by him to be blood-thirsty killers. This writer is a lover of dogs, but is there anything more miserable and loathsome in the world than a pack of dogs trained to be killers?

Faked scenes of milk-fed, thoroughbred white-faced calves in an alfalfa field miles from any mountain lion; of somebody's prize, snow-white fat lambs that never saw a mountain, let alone a lion.

A heroic scene of the manly Pyle, in his lust to kill, stoning the life out of a poor defenceless skunk, caught feeding on a dead cow and miles from the nearest chicken coop.

The same noble Pyle lassoing the indomitable lion, after the poor, harried beast has been finally treed by the pack of blood-thirsty hounds.

Fine propaganda. All faked and exaggerated. These professional hunters, giving free rein to their blood lust under the guise of noble work! How sickening!

Stamp out all the wild life in the world! Always the coyote is described as the skulking cowardly menace of the open places. The coyote, whose shrill lonely cry in the cold dawn is the tragic voice of the ancient earth hurling its defiance at the arch killer "man," is no coward. Man brands him a coward because he is smart enough to slip away like a grey shadow when danger threatens in the shape of a man with a gun or a pack of vicious hounds. Have you ever seen a cornered coyote fight his death battle? It is no coward's fight.

Man, the arch killer, the beast of prey, the most blood-thirsty of all. And yet we gloss it over with fine words. Pyle, the noble son of the open range, with his noble dogs, riding the life out of an iron-hearted horse, on the trail of the terrible cougar.

The cougars taking their annual toll of 35,000 head of stock. What silly rubbish! Most of them have been beaten back into the wilds of the high mountains where there are no stock. Also, their toll of deer. How terrible! Fewer deer left for man himself to kill. We have ridden the range, driven cattle on long, dusty trails, slept under the stars. Otherwise we might not know what we are talking about.

HOOVER TO BE 'ON GO' UNTIL VOTE

By NATHAN ROBERTSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Hoover prepared today to wind up his campaign for re-election with a series of speeches, beginning at Indianapolis Friday night, that may keep him on the road almost continuously from now to election day.

With three speeches definitely scheduled for the next five days, the president was considering proposals which would keep him on the train and speaking platforms throughout the final 10 days of the campaign.

He will leave the capital tomorrow night for the middle west to speak at the Indiana capital and then hurry back to Washington to complete addresses alerady arranged for delivery Monday afternoon at Newark, N. J., and in New York City.

His plans beyond that still are tentative but his aides are urging proposals ranging from another tour of the hotly disputed middle west to a sweeping transcontinental swing that would carry him to his home at Palo Alto for election day.

Tentative plans to speak in Chicago Saturday before his return from Indianapolis, were abandoned by the chief executive yesterday in order to allow more time for drafting his Newark and New York addresses. His friends say he considers the latter one of the most important of the entire campaign.

Chicago is at the top of the list of cities in which Mr. Hoover is being urged to speak after his New York trip. Others include Springfield, Ill., Minneapolis, St. Louis and Kansas City. A tour to the west coast probably would include speeches at Denver and one of the northwestern cities.

"HATE" HELPS DEMOCRATS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Norman Thomas, Socialist party nominee for the presidency, said today that if former Governor Alfred E. Smith makes two more speeches for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt then President Hoover stands a much better chance of getting elected.

Asked whom he thought was going to win the election, Thomas said he suspected that Roosevelt might be praying "deliver me from my friends and I will take care of my enemies."

Roosevelt's hopes for election rest on having as few people as possible listen to his speeches, Thomas said. Saying the Democratic party was the "protest vote" party, Thomas said if it were not for the hate of Hoover, the Democratic party would fall apart.

'POP' MOVES TO BOLSTER CARD TEAM

"Pop" Warner made several moves yesterday to strengthen the Stanford football team for its important game with the U. C. L. A. Bruins next Saturday.

Developments of the practice last night we: . . e shifting of Jay Tod from right end to left end; the definite assignment of "Red" Targhetta to left guard and the promotion of Bruce Tarver from the Grays as a substitute for the left guard position; the insertion of Stan Anderson as possible first-string quarterback and the naming of "Red" Gribbin as temporary first-string ight tackle in place of Henri Laborde.

Tod takes over Colvin's position because the latter is suffering from a cold that may keep him on the bench next Saturday. Bill Doub, who has been waging a great battle with Tod for the regular right end job, takes over the position for the Bruin game. Targhetta has showed great possibilities as a left guard during the season and the move, providing the little redhead keeps up his good work, may be permanent. Stan Anderson has played third-string fullback and Warner's shift will undoubtedly strengthen the quarterback position. Gordy Campbell can be counted on for only part-time duty and Tex Walker has looked only fair at the position.

Gribbin deserves a starting job at tackle on the strength of his good work in several games this season while the move also allows Laborde, regular, to rest.

Tiny Thornhill, line coach, is in the hospital suffering from a severe cold and may not accompany the team south.

Ernie Nevers, assistant coach and former all-American fullback, worked out in uniform at quarterback with his greys against the varsity last night and dazzled the regulars with his passing.

Card Frosh Defeat Menlo J. C. 19 to 0

Three touchdowns in the first half were enough to give the Stanford freshman football team a 19 to 0 victory over Menlo Junior College in the preliminary to the Stanford-Southern California contest Saturday at Palo Alto.

Bronstein made two of the scores, one on a 12-yard lateral and the other on a 45-yard punt return. Hamilton intercepted a Menlo pass and ran 90 yards for the second touchdown.

A pass from Sparling to Hall carried Menlo to the frosh 17-yard line in the third period.

Ex-Judge's Son Is Held In Burglary

Allison Wightman, of Pioneer Coastside Family, Held

Allison Wightman, 26, son of former Justice of the Peace William Wightman, Half Moon Bay pioneer, has confessed to Sheriff James J. McGrath and Undersheriff Lawrence Nieri that he was responsible for the series of cabin thefts in the La Honda, Woodside, Butano and Skyline boulevard section during recent weeks.

McGrath and Nieri, who have been quietly working on the case for several weeks, traced the thefts to Wightman through a radio pawned in San Francisco, McGrath said.

Taken into custody, Wightman admitted responsibility for 10 or 12 cabin entries, McGrath said, and he is expected to help clear up the remaining two or three.

Loot, originally valued at $2,000, was obtained by Wightman in the series of thefts, McGrath said. Most of it has been recovered by McGrath and Nieri in San Francisco, Oakland, Richmond and other bay city pawnshops. The accused man received but small sums for the stolen goods.

Out of work, Wightman turned finally to crime, he told McGrath. His family, a pioneer one on the coastside, was reported deeply shaken at news of young Wightman's arrest and confession.

Sheriff McGrath, who had the highways patroled at nights in the hope of running down the supposed band of burglars, said that Wightman operated only in daylight and "played a lone hand."

Nieri today took the accused man to San Francisco in the hope of recovering additional articles found missing from the cabins.

Among the victims are Dr. Pearl Smith, 3700 California street, San Francisco, a woman physician; Mrs. V. O. Post, 193 Montecito avenue, Oakland, who has a fashionable cabin in the Butano; Mrs. Alice Wissel, 1737 McKinnon street, San Francisco; Frank Tozer, 2146 Granada street, San Francisco, and F. A. Cresta of Colma.

Radios, guns, vacuum cleaners, household furnishings, leather goods, toasters, blankets and similar articles were listed among the loot obtained from the cabins.

Wightman has been in custody since last night, McGrath said.

DEATH TOLL IN TRAFFIC REACHES 5

Two additional deaths occurred late Tuesday to bring San Mateo county's week-end automobile toll to five.

But traffic mishaps did not end there.

Two Redlands men, driving north on the Bayshore highway, ran into a salt pound near San Mateo early today and suffered critical injuries which may prove fatal.

Those who succumbed to the week-end traffic were Simon Acero, 55, of Redwood City, who died yesterday evening in the Community Hospital, and William R. Casey, 50, of 120 Central avenue, Burlingame, who died earlier yesterday afternoon at the Mills Memorial Hospital.

Acero Rites Set

Funeral services for Acero will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home, and interment will follow at Union Cemetery.

Mr. Acero, a native of Spain, is survived by his widow, Dulce Acero, and son, Joseph Acero.

He was struck down at Five Points by a car driven by R. H. Pierson of Los Angeles.

Heart Gives Way

Casey's death was attributed by his attending physician to heart disease, aggravated by the critical injuries suffered on the Bayshore highway early Sunday near San Carlos.

C. L. Baker of Hollywood was driver of the car. Casey had lived in Burlingame for 25 years. Services will be held tomorrow for him. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: The Rev. John Casey, Berkeley; Michael B. and Daniel J. Casey, both of El Cerrito; May Casey, San Francisco, and Helen Casey, Burlingame.

Truck Leaves Road

Delbert Acurso, 20, of Redlands, and his uncle, Samuel Acurso, 36, same city, were taken to the Mills hospital in serious condition at an early hour this morning when a truck in which they were riding plunged from the road on the outskirts of San Mateo and mired in a salt pond.

The truck, loaded with crates of grapes and other fruits, was wrecked when the load shifted onto the cab, pinning the men inside.

The younger Acurso, who was driving, suffered severe head injuries, while Samuel Acurso incurred spine injuries.

Delbert Acurso is believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel.

brings a new world to your door-step

"Judge and Mrs. J. M. Veech entertain at luncheon today." . . . "Work starts on new road." . . . "New York bank sees strength in Britain." . . . "Library shares in large bequest." . . . What an interesting, moving, provocative world the newspapers bring us! News of our friends, of our town, of every-day happenings all around us, and of events that stir the world. Imagine a people without newspapers! We'd be lost.

And imagine trying to live intelligently without this other kind of news: "Sport shirts at reasonable prices." . . . "Rugs, a new lot from Persia." . . . "Six days to Montreal and back, at special rates." . . . "Wicker chairs, as low as $7." . . . News of food and motor-cars, of ginger ales and pianos, of leather goods and carpet lining.

The intimate, important news is the advertising that influences and CHANGES our whole manner of living.

Make it a daily practice to read the advertisements in this newspaper. Read them carefully, just as you read the news articles. For advertisements, given a chance, will make your life more comfortable, more enjoyable, more productive of good for others and for yourself.

History of SAN MATEO COUNTY

By CHARLES H. PRIOR

This series of articles, under the title "History of San Mateo county," was first printed in the San Mateo Times back in 1924, when the writer was on the Times staff. The original articles, in the form they now appear, have been expanded and re-arranged. For the benefit of the old residents and others familiar with the background of this county, the writer frankly admits that most of the material here used has been cribbed from the several histories of the county. The one real source of the early records is the original history published by B. F. Alley in San Francisco in 1883. However, some of the material of these articles, particularly that about the coastside, has been obtained first hand from such living pioneers as William Moore, Judge Woodhams and Asa T. Weeks, all of Pescadero. This is not an attempt to bring the history of San Mateo county up to the present day. Rather, we will be content to trace the background of the various towns and districts.—Writer's note.

ARTICLE I

The Earliest Records

Strange as it may seem, in tracing the early history of San Mateo county, we go back to the sixteenth century, nearly 400 years ago.

Probably the first of the early explorers to sight the shores of this county from the sea was Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, one of the pilots of Cortez, who put out from the port of Natividad, Mexico, in 1542 and sailed north along the California coast as far as 40 degrees north latitude, or about 100 miles above the Golden Gate.

The records do not tell whether or not he attempted to land north of San Diego, (which he entered on September 28, 1542, and named San Miguel) but it is likely that he passed the heads of the Golden Gate without suspecting that they were the portals to a great bay, and that 300 years later the white-winged Argonauts would enter there in search of the Golden Fleece. He turned back, arrived safely at Natividad, and brought to his sovereign and the world the first knowledge of Northern California.

Back in 1513 the intrepid Vasco Nunez de Balboa had looked from the mountains of Panama down upon the broad Pacific and had claimed all the shores washed by its waters for the King of Spain. How little did he of the stout heart realize the illimitable world of land and water included in his sweep, and how he, a tiny speck there on the heights, typified all the tragic vanity and courage of mankind.

Sir Francis Drake, in his privateering cruise of 1577-78-79, touched at this coast in the region of 38 degrees north latitude. Drake put into what was for long afterward called the "Port of San Francisco." He named the country "New Albion" and took possession of it in the name of Queen Elizabeth.

But this port of San Francisco which Drake entered in 1578, in which the Philippine ship, San Augustin, was wrecked in 1595, and which Don Sebastian Vizcayno visited in 1603, is not the one we know today. Rather it is Drake's Bay, under the lea of Point Reyes. The description of it, found in the records of an old Pacific Coast pilot, Admiral Jose Gonzales Cabrera Bueno, published in Manila in 1734, corresponds exactly with Drake's Bay.

According to all available records, it is believed that the present Bay of San Francisco remained unknown until the year 1763, when Jose Galvez, the visitor general of New Spain, determined upon the occupation of Upper California.

Galvez fitted out two expeditions one by land and the other by sea. The land expedition was under the command of Don Gaspar de Portola, the first governor of California. But before starting the account of these epoch-making expeditions, we will tell something of the native Indians and their customs, and of the annals left by the early voyagers.

(Next week's article will deal with the native Indians of San Mateo county.)

Primitive Men Had Toothache, U. C. Man Finds

BERKELEY.—The oft-repeated admonition to "See your dentist twice a year," has gone even farther than its radio sponsors ever expected.

Some 570 ancient Egyptians and Peruvians at the University of California who died anywhere from 500 to 6,000 years ago had their teeth examined this month for the first time.

This information was obtained today from a notice by Professor A. L. Kroeber, chairman of the department of anthropology, concerning the departure from Berkeley of Major R. W. Leigh, dental surgeon in the United States Army.

Skulls Collected 25 Years Ago

Major Leigh, who is stationed at Fort Omaha, spent eight weeks at the University Museum of Anthropology continuing studies which he has been making for the past several years on the dental condition of primitive man. The skulls which he examined on this latest trip included 233 from Egypt, representing most periods from 4500 B. C. to 400 A. D., and 333 from ancient Peru. These skulls were collected more than a quarter of a century ago by George Reisner and Max Uhle, at the request of Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

In general the condition of these skull collections, now examined for the first time, is comparable to the condition of California Indian skulls examined by Major Leigh some four years ago. In a publication on this early work, issued by the University of California Press, he revealed that contrary to popular belief some Indians must have had as many toothaches as modern man, and perhaps more.

Food Habits Caused Tooth Wear

The California Indians suffered tooth troubles chiefly because of their food habits, Major Leigh believes. In the course of leaching and grinding acorns and other foods on rocks or in the soil, not to mention cooking by throwing hot stones into the food, much sand was mixed with the Indian's daily meal. In addition the Indians mixed their chewing tobacco with ground shells for the lime in them. These practices resulted in the gradual grinding away of the chewing surface of the teeth. Sixty-nine per cent of the 300 California skulls of individuals over 40 years of age had the pulp of one or more teeth exposed. Often this condition was accompanied by infections of the root canals and abscesses.

But not all of the toothaches of the primitive Red men who lived here before the coming of the white men were caused by wearing away their teeth. They also suffered, just as does modern man, from dental caries or decayed teeth, and from pyorrhea alveolaris. Twenty-five per cent of the skulls revealed cavities or other evidences of tooth decay, and 50 per cent of the skulls showed signs of having been attacked by pyorrhea. Professor Kroeber says: "He finds that several ancient races suffered considerably from caries and other tooth troubles, thus dispelling the popular impression that afflictions of this kind are a symptom of modern civilization."

Press Sentiment Against No. Nine On Ballot Strong

Numerous California newspapers agree in their opposition to the school tax amendment No. 9 on the November ballot, according to Donzel Stoney, chairman of the property owners' division of the San Francisco Real Estate Board.

Stoney's committee today issued this summary of editorial comment from leading newspapers in the state:

"The local taxpayer will find he has been hit by an additional state levy and his local tax bills as high as usual."—Stockton Record.

"It still allows the boards of supervisors to levy ad valorem tax for school purposes. It also provides for income and selective sales tax to be levied by legislatures for school purposes. Vote no."—Sacramento Bee.

"If it should be adopted, Proposition No. 9 on the November ballot, designed to shift the principal burden of school taxes from counties to the state, would result in a substantial increase of taxes even on real estate, instead of the decrease which its proponents hope for."—Los Angeles Times.

"Heralded as an equalization tax measure to relieve real property from excessive taxation, this amendment in reality lets down the bars so that millions in new taxes may be raised from any source."—San Franicsco Examiner.

"No solution of the tax problem is to be found by adding to the burden already carried or by the mere shifting of the load."—Hanford Sentinel.

San Carlos Boys Are Busy With Activities Under Program of 'Y'

SAN CARLOS, Oct. 27. — The first meeting of the Forty-Niner Pioneers of San Carlos was held Wednesday evening at the Community Church. This club which is made up of boys of San Carlos between the ages of 13 and 18 years will start on its third year of activity. It has been very active in all of the competition under the programs of the Young Men's Christian Association, including athletics in all fields. A large percentage of the boys have worked their way through the younger boys' program of the same organization, better known as the "Friendly Indians." Membership is open to all boys of the community of the required age.

James Reed was elected to serve as chief of the Hopi Friendly Indians at the first meeting of the fall season called Friday afternoon by Roy Hohberger, leader of the boys. Lloyd Gordon will be tom-tom beater, Charles Hopkins, medicine man; Albert Simpson, wampum bearer, and Eugene Cahill, Indian runner. The Hopi Friendly Indian tribe is made up of boys from ages of 8 to 10 years.

One new member, Donald Simpson, was taken in at Friday's meeting. The boys are planning on learning their parts for the opening ceremony and will work at Friendly Indiancrafts which will make their ceremony very effective.

Cheyennes Hear Leader

The Cheyenne Friendly Indians started their seventh year of activity with a meeting at the San Carlos school on Friday afternoon.

Roy A. Hohberger, the local secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, explained to the boys the many attractive events from which the boys can choose for their program for the year.

The boys elected their new officers for the fall season. Edward Burton was re-elected as chief for the second season. Others elected were Robert Edling, tom-tom beater; Robert Castagnino, wampum bearer, and Ned Potter, medicine man.

In the competition for Indian runner, Roy Noerager, showed his fleet footedness and won the race from the other members of the tribe.

Edward Burton, was elected captain of the football team, and Robert Castagnino will head the basketball team.

The Friendly Indians are very proud of the fact that it has a splendid trophy which was won by the local boys in the competition with the other Friendly Indian tribes of the peninsula. The trophy is on display in the trophy case of the school.

Both Hopi and Friendly Indian tribes are practicing for the competition which will be held at Stanford on Saturday, November 5, which is football meet day for all Friendly Indians on the peninsula.

Frenches Leave for Fresno

Mrs. E. E. Young in company with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert French, left San Carlos Saturday for Fresno. Mr. and Mrs. French have been the house guests of the Youngs at Devonshire boulevard for the past week. Mrs. Young will visit friends in Los Angeles before she returns to the peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hoxie are expected to return to San Carlos this week from Los Angeles where they have been on a vacation for the past week. The trip was made by boat.

Mrs. Harry J. Borba and son, Dean, accompanied by Mrs. Z. F. Moody, left Monday morning by motor for Los Angeles, where the party will be the house guests of Mrs. George Borba, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Moody will return to San Carlos on next Monday, but Mrs. Borba and son plan to stay over in the South for another week.

Fall activities for the Girl Scouts of San Carlos are taking on rapid progress under the leadership of Mrs. John E. Mansbarger, local captain.

On Friday evening the girls were taken to the attractive home of Miss Kathryn VanderKamp of San Carlos Manor, where they enjoyed their supper beside a large bon-fire. Games were played during the evening.

Miss Albertha Youker, the new girl scout director of the Sequoia District, was the guest of honor and spoke to the girls on general scout activities.

The girls are being instructed on the Morse code, preparatory to passing their second class test on signalling.

Peninsula Game Celebrations Are Numerous, Gay

Among the peninsula football fans who entertained last Saturday before and after the Stanford-Southern California game were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lowery of Menlo Park, Mr. and Mrs. John Brooke Jr. of Atherton and Miss Max Leona Anderson of Palo Alto, all of whom gave pre-game buffet luncheons. Miss Doris Scheier and her brother, Arnold, entertained that evening with a large "high tea" party at their home in Hillsborough.

Also giving buffet luncheons were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Isenberg of Atherton, Mr. John Hooker of Burlingame, Mr. Douglas Gregg and Mr. Francis V. Keesling Jr. of Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pond of Burlingame, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Locke Harper of Hillsborough.

Entertaining at the Burlingame Country Club were Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClaren; while the Menlo Club was the setting for many "Dutch treat" luncheon and dinner parties. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnston entertained there also.

Mr. Alexis Ehrman Jr. of Atherton entertained about a hundred friends at a buffet luncheon, and a large group went to the Carlton Millers in Palo Alto. Mrs. John Casserly entertained at dinner at her home in San Mateo.

Auto Leaves Road As Tire Blows Out

When his light coupe backed down a 150-foot embankment on the Bayshore highway near Brisbane Tuesday night, Hugh Caddell, 50, of the United States Veterans' Hospital, North Palo Alto, miraculously escaped death or serious injury.

While southbound, Caddell's car skidded around when a rear tire blew out. The car backed down the bank, out of control, but did not turn over in its descent. This fact saved Caddell from being killed or seriously injured.

Officers Manfred Walzberg and Frank Chevalier of the night patrol filed a report of the accident with the local traffic bureau.

Slight 'Quake Is Felt on Peninsula

Redwood City and other peninsula communities felt a slight earthquake shock at 5:07 o'clock Tuesday p. m. It is thought to have been localized in the San Andreas fault, in which this community lies.

The shock was recorded "as of secondary import" on the seismograph in the Ricard Memorial Observatory at the University of Santa Clara. It was also recorded on the University of California seismograph.

Undue Influence In Hartley Will Denied by Trust

Undue influence of Carl E. Wagner in drafting of the provisions of the trust created by the late Jennie E. Hartley has been denied in an answer filed by the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association to the contest of the will filed recently by relatives.

Eugene V. Daneri, assistant trust officer, through Attorney Edmund Scott, filed the answer.

Wagner, former manager of the Bank of America branch here, did not influence Mrs. Hartley, late county educator, in drawing up the trust by which Wagner's two children stood to benefit, the answer declares.

It also declares that she was not of unsound mind but was in possession of her faculties when the agreement was drawn up in July, 1928.

The answer is a reply to the contest of Dollie and Birdie Bacon, nieces, and J. B. Bacon, nephew, who are seeking to have the trust set aside. It is valued at about $100,000.

Guerrero Is Held To Higher Court

Pedro Guerrero, 65, Pedro Valley mountaineer, was held to answer to the superior court by Justice of the Peace Ellis C. Johnson of Daly City on a murder charge this week.

Guerrero is accused of slaying Maurice Russell, 40, San Francisco advertising man. Harrison W. Call represented him at the hearing.

LETTERS SOUGHT

Mrs. Mary C. Schmitt, of San Francisco, today has on file with County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman a petition for letters of administration in the estate of her late husband, Peter, who died in this county August 18. The widow gives the value of the estate as not over $5,000.

Woodside Man Wins Engineering Honor

Daniel C. Jackling of Woodside has been awarded the 1933 John Fritz gold medal, highest of American engineering honors, it has been announced in New York.

Jackling won the honor for "notable industrial achievement in initiating mass production of copper from low grade ore."

The board of award consists of 16 representatives of four national societies of civil, mining, metallurgical, mechanical and electrical engineers.
